Lincoln's top hats were not always of the same design. At his first inauguration in 1860, he wore the lower silk plush hat that had by that time come into fashion.

Abraham Lincoln's Top Hat: The Inside Story | History ...

See where Abraham Lincoln hung his famous stovepipe hat as you step into the house. The dining room is straight ahead, the parlor is on the left, with the sitting room on the right. For many years Lincoln used his hat as a mini briefcase, stashing letters and documents in the lining. In an 1850 letter he said, "I am ashamed of not sooner answering your letter, herewith returned; and, my only apologies are, first, that I have been very busy in the U.S. court; and second, that when I received ...

Lincoln removed his hat and the actors resumed the play where they had left off. At about 10:15 p.m., John Wilkes Booth entered the box, pointed a derringer pistol at the back of the president's head, and fired. Fatally wounded, Lincoln was carried across the street to the home of William Petersen where he would die at 7:22 the next morning.
